Mission

Tacoma Historical Society is a volunteer-supported 501(c)(3) charitable, nonprofit corporation, and is dedicated to the preservation, promotion and presentation of the history of the City of Tacoma and its people.

- We believe a community and its neighborhoods are enriched and strengthened by awareness of their unique cultural, political and social history. We strive to increase the level of this awareness for all persons who live in, visit or are curious about Tacoma.
- We actively collect, document and preserve artifacts related to Tacoma's past from the period immediately preceding the location of the Delin Mill on Tacoma's waterfront in 1852 up to the significant events of the present day.
- We encourage scholarship related to Tacoma's history so that a significant legacy will be available to future generations.
- We disseminate information about Tacoma's history and present programs and displays of historical personages, places and events so that all interested persons can develop their understanding and appreciation of this city and its people.
- We partner with and support community and cultural organizations' efforts which further the growth of historical interest in and awareness of Tacoma's heritage.

Tacoma and Business— A Sound Partnership From the Beginning

Tacoma's earliest settlers had their eye on prosperity. They created a vibrant city booming with commerce and charming neighborhoods. Today, Tacoma businesses carry on the tradition and the challenge.

Tacoma Historical Society collects and tells the stories of the City of Tacoma and its people. True to its mission, the society has played a leadership role in efforts to preserve the city's history through such activities as:

- Providing monthly programs featuring the work of local historians
- Presenting the annual Historic Homes of Tacoma Tour
- Providing fiscal sponsorship for such projects as the Top of the Ocean, Allen C. Mason, and World War II Memorial Monuments
- Hosting our annual “Destiny” dinner and auction each fall.

History of

Tacoma Historical Society

The Society was formally established and incorporated in 1990. When Washington State Historical Society was planning to build a new facility, Tacoma historians and history buffs realized that Tacoma-centric artifacts would not figure prominently in plans for the new museum. They subsequently formed the Society to offer the community a repository that would help Tacoma tell its story to visitors and future generations.

The Society focused mainly on educational opportunities during its early years, via monthly forums. 1993 brought the first "Historic Homes of Tacoma" tour as an annual fundraiser for a future museum of Tacoma history. In 2006 the Society took a big step in that direction by opening an Exhibit Center at 747 Broadway, featuring a gift shop and the Allen C. Mason Exhibit Area. The first annual "Destiny" dinner and auction was held in 2007 and the following year the Society hired its first director.
